However, a defensive player may tag a runner coming into the safety home plate if there is an offline throw and it is the only way to record the out.
 - c. There is a "commit" line 20 feet beyond third base; any baserunner touching or going past this line must proceed to run to home plate.
- 15) The courtesy runner rule is: One batter/runner of each gender may be run for once per inning, for as many times as they are on base that inning, by any member of the same gender on the roster. Should the substitute runner be on base when it is his/her turn at bat, an out shall be recorded and their time at bat forfeited.
- 16) A female batter/runner cannot be thrown out at first base by an outfielder. However, an outfielder may choose to relay hit ball to an infielder, who then may throw out a female batter at first base.
- 17) All outfielders must start the pitch on the grass part of the outfield. There also must be two outfielders on the left side of second base, and two outfielders on the right side of second base. No team can play three outfielders on one side.

- 2) If the home team is short-handed to start the game, they may choose to hit first (in effect becoming the visiting team) to allow them more time for their ninth player to show. This may only be done with the consent of the opposing manager and does not affect future home/visitor status in subsequent games between the two teams.
